What Happens when you contact us?

We sometimes collect and store information about you or your organisation, either from information you have supplied or using cookies to record your IP address. We undertake to protect this information and use it only to contact you in response to your enquiry, or for future marketing purposes. We may occasionally use third party agents to promote our services, and they may have access to contact details. However we will not allow any of your personal details to be used by any other unrelated organisation.

Your Choice

If you do not wish to receive information from us, please use the email form on the Contact Us page to ask for your details to be removed from our Mailing list.

Any Questions

If you have any questions about our Privacy Policy, please use the email form on the Contact Us page to write to our Compliance Manager.
